Dr. Erica Miller Shares Holocaust Survivor Story with L.A. Museum of the Holocaust

Los Angeles, California. October 8, 2018. Dr. Erica Miller, Holocaust survivor, international best-selling author and motivational speaker will give her ‘Survivor Talk’ at Los Angeles Museum of the Holocaust (MOTH) on Sunday, October 28, 2018, from 3:00 to 4:00 pm. The Museum is located at 100 S. The Grove Drive in Los Angeles, 90036.

L.A.’s MOTH conducts these events most Sunday afternoons, where Holocaust survivors discuss their wartime experiences. Dr. Miller is a seasoned speaker and will direct her message to a general audience. “We generally have between 40 and 60 people who come to listen to the survivor talks,” says Michael Morgenstern. “Each survivor takes his or her own approach to sharing the information which makes it that much more interesting.” During her presentation, Dr. Miller will describe her early years living in Romania, the journey to the Nazi camp, how wartime experiences shaped her personality, the survival strategies she developed, and ultimately the lessons she learned. “I look forward to sharing my survivor talk with museum patrons,” says Dr. Erica Miller. “I believe more places should provide the same opportunities so that we never forget the horrors of the Holocaust.” Those who attend will be given the opportunity to ask questions at the end of Dr. Miller’s presentation. A book signing will follow.

Dr. Miller, who holds a Ph.D. in clinical psychology, is the author of three books: “The Dr. Erica Miller Story: From Trauma to Triumph.”(2009) “Don’t Tell Me I Can’t Do It – Living Audaciously in the Here and Now” (2015); and the international best-seller, “Chronologically Gifted Aging with Gusto: A Practical Guide for Healthy Living to Age 123.” (2017)
